The pre-dintions adopted pre-sht the layers chatbound of hypogracy, de holydry and Bourbanism that has been poheocred by any Republican convention it is year. [Found State.]
The Boston Herold recently stated that vages in some English industries are higher, then they are here. It would be refreshing to have some instances cited, before we are convinced of this. Perhaps a few individual cases or small isolated in-dustries might be found, but. I so, they would not affect the general truth that inborers are much better paid Lere than in England. The reticence of the Herald easts mere assertions without proof will be re-ceived.
